I recently purchased STATworkUP for my clinical experiences as a student . It is a very helpful program in that it contributes helpful fast information which is beneficial to individualized patient centered care. It also helps other providers partaking in the clinical experience a chance to collaborate .. Whether you have extensive medical training or not this application is very beneficial . I would highly recommend this application as it is helpful in enhancing the quality of patient care and different scopes of practice in healthcare .

A delightful app. Useful especially for the experienced clinician. Brings along a sense that it was written a working knowledge of the processes needed in medicine. Find it especially entertaining to do quick reviews, since the material is clinically relevant. Results provide excellent points for further discussions.
